6. Rights and remedies

	Rights	Explanation
1.	Information and access of data	The Data Subject has the right to access the personal data stored by the Data Controller and verify the information related to their processing, and is also entitled to have access to the personal data. The Help function in the menu of most browsers gives information on the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• in your browser, exactly what cookies are stored on the device used for browsing</li> <li>• how to ban cookies,</li> <li>• how to accept new cookies,</li> <li>• how to delete already accepted cookies.</li> </ul>

2.	Right to restrict data processing	The Data Subject has the right to request the Data Controller to restrict the processing of their data if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- the Data Subject disputes the accuracy of the personal data, in which case the restriction applies to the period of time that allows the Data Controller to verify the accuracy of the personal data;</li> <li>- the data processing is illegal and the Data Subject opposes the deletion of the data and instead requests a restriction on their use;</li> <li>- the Data Controller no longer needs personal data for the purpose of data processing, but the Data Subject requests them in order to submit, enforce or protect legal claims...</li> <li>- the Data Subject objects to the data processing: in this case the restriction applies for the period until it is determined whether the legitimate reasons of the Data Controller take precedence over the legitimate reasons of the Data Subject.</li> </ul>
3.	Right to deletion (forgetting)	The Data Subject has the right to request the Data Controller to delete personal data concerning them without undue delay if any of the specified reasons exist: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- personal data are no longer required for the purpose for which they were collected or otherwise processed by the Data Controller;</li> <li>- The Data Subject withdraws the consent on which the data processing is based and there is no other legal basis for the data processing,</li> <li>- the Data Subject objects to the data processing for reasons related to their own situation and there is no legitimate reason for the data processing;</li> <li>- the Data Subject objects to the processing of personal data concerning them for the purpose of direct business acquisition, including profiling, insofar as it relates to direct business acquisition;</li> <li>- the Data Controller processes the personal data illegally;</li> <li>- personal data were collected in connection with the provision of information society services directly to children.</li> </ul> The Data Subject may not exercise its right to deletion, forgetting, if the data processing <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- is necessary for archivation, scientific and historic research or statistical purposes, if exercising the right to deletion would prevent or seriously jeopardize such data processing, or</li> <li>- is necessary to submit, enforce or defend legal claims.</li> </ul> The Help function in the menu of most browsers gives information on the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• in your browser, how you can ban cookies</li> <li>• how you can delete already accepted cookies.</li> </ul> In view of the above the Data Subject can also exercise their right to delegation through their own browser.
4.	Protest against the processing of personal data	The Data Subject has the right to object at any time to the processing of personal data processed in accordance with a legitimate interest.

The Data Controller shall, without undue delay, inform the Data Subject of the measures taken within 30 days of receipt of any request. If the Data Subject has submitted the request electronically, the Data Controller shall provide the information electronically, unless otherwise requested by the Data Subject.

If the Data Subject's request is clearly unfounded or excessive (especially in view of its repetitive nature), the Data Controller may charge a reasonable fee for the execution of the request or refuse to take action. The burden of proving this lies with the Data Controller. If the Data Controller has doubts about the identity of the natural person submitting the request, it may request the submission of additional information necessary to confirm the identity of the requester.

In matters affecting the legality of processing the personal data of the Data Subject by the Data Controller they may request action by the National Data Protection and Freedom of Information Authority (for short: NAIH; registered office: 1055 Budapest, Falk Miksa utca 9-11., postal address: 1363 Budapest, POB 9., website: www.naih.hu, telephone: +36 (1) 391-1400, fax: +36 (1) 391-1410, central e-mail address: ugyfelszolgalat@naih.hu), or may apply to the court of their place of residence ("right of appeal").
